Mexico says it will not allow the burial of the remains of the undocumented Irish migrant Celia Corkery in Mexico. They announced the decision last week, a day after her body was discovered in a shallow grave, already exhumed by people smugglers and corrupt police at the bottom of a mountain in southern Mexico. The body was removed by Irish officials who had flown in to identify her. The Department of Foreign Affairs issued a statement last night after Mexico was made aware of the Irish decision to repatriate Celia's remains. Spokesperson John O'Brien said: "We remain saddened by the loss of Celia Corkery and extend our sympathies to her loved ones and to the parents of her children. "We also note the announcement made today by the Mexican foreign affairs ministry stating that the remains of Celia Corkery will not be allowed to be buried in the country. "We have no further comment to make at this time."

I have got up this morning confident that RBI will have to be cut again," said Anil Morchhale, managing director of Amtek Auto India Ltd.
