The third point here is the Saturn-Jupiter Yantra, or Saturn-Jupiter Mandala. In this configuration the Saturn in the 12th is placed beside the Jupiter in the 4th.

Therefore, this placement indicates that the Saturn is responsible for the energies of the Sun in the 4th house and Jupiter in the 12th. In this configuration the kala vela would be more powerful than in the first, but weaker than in the second configuration. So, for example, in the first configuration of the Saturn-Saturn Yantra, the 7th house becomes more active, since the Saturn has a stronger influence on this house. In the Saturn-Jupiter Yantra the Lagna becomes more active, since the power of Jupiter is stronger in this configuration. In the first configuration the Sun in the 4th is the partner of the kala vela, while in the second configuration the Chitra nakshatra in the 10th is the partner of the kala vela. So in the first configuration of the Saturn-Saturn Yantra, the Sun in the 4th is full, except for the 11th house. In the second configuration the Sun is weak, except for the 5th house. The Sun is placed in the kala vela, so it has to do with the power of Saturn. In the first configuration the Sun is placed in the kala vela, which means that it is full. Addition of personal profile, Cross Vibes 3 DJ, Calenders, Monthly Panchangam, Transit/Star/Rise/Set Tables, Porutham (Matrimonial Match), Horoscope and many more. These Kala Velas, when well situated, tend to give strength, courage, initiative, power, fortitude and consistency within the area of life represented by the houses in which they are placed. However, this usually only occurs in the 3rd, 6th, 10th and 11th houses. Other wise Kala (a son of the Sun) often causes too many sacrifices that are too high a price in the houses he is situated. Mrityu (a son of Mars) causes frustration, animosity, impatience and injury within the houses he is situated. Since these are shadow planets, their qualities are the hidden shadow side of their fathers.

If you chose to go in a positive direction, then, the planet that most shares aspects with other planets is your strong planet. Venus, Jupiter or Saturn are your strong planet. Also, your weak planet is the planet that has the most aspects with the strong planet. If you have Mars in your natal chart in Kala, you have a strong planet. The Upagrahas are best understood with a more general discussion of the planetary positions. The planet Saturn has three effects on the horoscope, to exert its influence each planet has a unique effect. Through the kala velas they can exert influence on the chart. When they are there in strength and appropriately placed they will have a major effect. If improperly placed, they can have a very limited or even negative influence. So, some people say that the Saturn kala vela is the oldest and most stable of the three, others prefer to call it the senior brother. As we said before, the kala velas are the darkest of the planets because they possess negative, hidden aspects. In this case the power of the kala vela is greater because of the power of their embodied father, Saturn. They can have a major influence through their Chitra nakshatra, but they are easily overcome by a more powerful presence. The second point here is the Jupiter-Saturn Yantra, or Jupiter-Saturn mandala. This is an alternate listing of the way the planets are placed in the chart. In this configuration, the planets in the kala vela group are placed directly opposite each other. This means that each has an effect on the other and neither can be separated without losing part of the meaning. Jupiter on the 8th in the 12th house, the place of our solar system, is counter-intuitive. Does this mean that the Sun is in our 4th house? If the planets would have been placed in this way more regularly it would be clear. But then this placement of the kala vela might not be the natural one, and the Chitra nakshatras would not be as sensitive to the individual planets of the kala vela group.
